DAILY PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

Tuesday Afternoon, January 28, 1834.

The Allegheny Democrat, of this morning, says—

"A private meeting was held by the opponents of the administration, lately, at Mr. Beale's, at which resolutations were passed in favor of the restoration of the deposits, &c., &c. No previous notice of the meeting was published. A memorial has since been circulated, instructing our representatives to vote for a restoration of the deposits.

It is true that a meeting was held at Mr. Beale's: and it is also true that no notice was given—and yet, such was the anxiety and interest upon this subject, that a very respectable number of our principal manufacturers, mechanics, merchants, and professional men, spontaneously assembled.

There was no desire to have a very large meeting—that meeting was merely preparatory—to prepare for the adoption of a memorial, and to provide for its circulation. Judge Wilkins' declaration, that he heard of no pressure in Pittsburgh, was only received on the day previous, and first suggested the propriety of an expression of opinion upon the subject, and for this purpose the meeting was got up in haste. The resolutions passed were an expression of the opinions of the principal men of business in the city. The memorials, however, are signed by several thousands of our citizens, of all classes, and are the true expression of public opinion.—Upon looking to these signatures, it will be found that they are not exclusively of anti Jackson men.

"In the last Manufacturer we observe a notice of an intention to celebrate, by a public supper, the birth day of the infidel, Tom Paine! It is to be hoped, for the credit of our city, that but few will participate in this abominable festival."

The above extract is from the Allegheny Democrat, of this morning.—It gives us sincere pleasure to place this praiseworthy article to the credit of its author, and we only regret that our neighbor has been so tardy in denouncing the infamous print in which the notice of this "abominable festival" appeared.—For years past we have set our face against the course and conduct of that paper; and, it is with no little pride, we recollect that we have contributed much to the low estimation in which that print is held by the respectable and intelligent portion of the community.—Mr. Johns is late in contributing his mite in proclaiming the infamy of the Manufacturer—but better late than never.

For the Gazette.

Mr. Craig—The Advocate, of the 27th instant, has stated "that it is well known that the Insurance Company, chartered in 1832, is incapable, on account of the limitation of its capital, to effect all the policies which are offered." In making this statement, that paper has been grossly deceived, and it is requested that you insert this note for the purpose of correct information. The number of risks offered bear but a small proportion, as yet, to the amount of the capital of that Company; and, it is also ascertained that, all the fire risks taken in Pittsburgh would not furnish an adequate business for one office, dependant upon Fire Insurance alone.

With the object to be promoted by the paragraph in the Advocate, this note has no connection, friendly or unfriendly—its only object is to prevent any one from being misled.

TRUTH.

PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE.

CANAL LOAN.

In the Senate, on the 23d instant, the Speaker laid before the Senate the following Message, from the Governor.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen—The Messrs. S. & M. Allen, the holders of the loan authorized by the act of 16th of February last, having failed to deposit to the credit of the Commonwealth, according to requisition made upon them, the last monthly instalment of said loan, I deem it my duty to communicate the fact to the General Assembly; and to request that a temporary loan of a sum not less than three hundred thousand dollars may be authorized to be made, FORTHWITH, to satisfy the creditors of the Commonwealth, and to enable the State to meet its engagements with the contractors and others employed in the prosecution of the public works; the said sum to be paid out of the residue of the original loan above mentioned, as soon as the same can be realized under a new contract, for which proposals will be forthwith issued.

Signed, GEORGE WOLF.

Harrisburgh, January 21, 1834.

From the Canton Repository.

CANAL MEETING.

At a large and respectable Meeting of the citizens of Stark, Tuscarawas, Columbiana, and Carroll counties, held in the town of Waynesburgh, Stark county, on the 17th day of January, 1834, for the purpose of adopting measures to insure the connection of the Pennsylvania and Ohio Canals, by the Sandy and Beaver rout—Rezin Prichard, Esq., of Sandyville, was appointed President; Mr. William Adams, of Sandyville, and Morris Miller, of Columbiana county, Vice Presidents; James Welch, of Waynesburgh, and Solomon Sala, of Zoar, Secretaries of said Meeting. The object of the meeting having been stated—

On motion of Benjamin Hanna, of New Lisbon, the act incorporating the Sandy and Beaver Canal Company, was read to the meeting.

On motion of Mr. Sala, of Zoar, it was resolved that a committee of five persons be appointed to draft and report resolutions expressive of the objects and views of the meeting; and thereupon the Presidents appointed Daniel E. Harbaugh and William D. Ewing, Esqrs., of New Lisbon, Michael Arter, Esq., of Hanover, John Pool, Esq., of Minerva, and Mr. Solomon Sala, of Zoar, said committee. The committee, having retired a short time, returned, and reported to said meeting the following resolutions, which, after some discussion, were adopted:

Resolved, That this meeting has full confidence in the skill and abilities of D. B. Douglass, late Professor of Engineering in the United States Military Academy at West Point, whose survey and report upon the Sandy and Beaver Canal rout, are entirely satisfactory; and that the project of connecting the Ohio Canal with the Ohio river, by the rout above named, is not only practicable, but will be highly advantageous to the interests of all concerned, the hasty opinions and reports of others to the contrary notwithstanding.

Resolved, That the present meeting, while it disclaims all intention of opposition to any other suggested plan of connecting the Pennsylvania with the Ohio Canal, has sufficient inducements in the short distance of the present proposed rout of the Sandy and Beaver Canal, in the facilities which nature has afforded for its construction, and in the rich and populous country through which it passes, to exert every effort in adopting prompt and energetic measures to insure its commencement and successful termination.

Resolved, That whereas, the expression of public opinion now fully justifies the belief, that that portion of the contemplated Sandy and Beaver Canal, which lies between Hanover, in Columbiana county, and the town of Zoar, on the Ohio Canal, in Tuscarawas county be made by private subscription—therefore, be it further resolved, that Rezin Pritchard, D. E. Harbaugh, Solomon Sala, William D. Ewing, John Ross, Morris Miller, Matson Ayres, John Pool, Richard Elson, and John Koontz, be, and they are hereby appointed a committee to petition the Legislature of this State at its present session, for an alteration in the charter incorporating the Sandy and Beaver Canal Company, allowing the Commissioners therein named to call a meeting of the stockholders for the election of Directors for said Company, on the subscription of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and also for an extension of the time of said charter for the completion of said Canal, and if a provision for the forfeiture of said charter should be introduced into said amendment, that the same shall only extend to that portion of the canal, which shall not be completed within the specified time.

Resolved, That as soon as the amendments proposed in the foregoing resolution to the act of incorporation can be procured that the commissioners therein named, be, and they are hereby requested to open books for subscription at the towns of Zoar, Waynesburgh, Hanover, New Lisbon, and at such other places as they may think proper for the purpose of procuring subscription to the capital stock of said company.

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting signed by the President, Vice Presidents, and Secretaries, be published in the newspapers at N. Lisbon, Canton, Massillon, New Philadelphia, Carrollton, and in the Advocate, Statesman, and Gazette, of Pittsburgh.

On motion of D. E. Harbaugh, the meeting adjourned without day.

FOREIGN EXTRACTS.

Lord Grenville.—It is stated that the venerable Lord Grenville continues in a hopeless state; his Lordship is perfectly sensible, but in a very exhausted condition. The Right Hon. T. Grenville, is unremitting in attendance on his distinguished relative. On the decease of his Lordship, it is believed that the grand political secret as to the authorship of the Letters of Junius will be disclosed.

FRANCE.

Paris, Nov. 23.—From sources of some importance, we learn that Count Pozzi di Borgo, on the part of the Russian Court, has demanded of the Court of France to check or stop the public press in Paris. We are given to understand that M. the Count of Broglie, on the part of the French Government, replied that the policy of France and Great Britain were assimilated, and referring M. Pozzi di Borgo to the British Government, stated that the French would abide by their answer.

A Curiosity.—A man, named Jean Claude Chabert, recently died at Caluire, at the age of more than 101 years, having been born July 23, 1732. He desired that the skeleton of his son, which he kept in his garret, should be buried with him.—From books, and various objects found in his apartments, he seems to have been a searcher for the philosopher's stone. The performance of the burial service was refused him by the clergy of the place.

GERMANY.

The Nuremburg Correspondent mentions an assembly of scientific men that is now being held at Dresden, for the purpose of making arrangements for opening a navigation from the Black Sea to the Baltic and the North Sea, by the junction of the Danube to the Rhine, the Moldau, and the Elbe.—They are at this time occupied with the difficulties that steam navigation meets with on the Moldau and the Elbe.

Polish Heroism.—Three of the confederates of Dziewicki, who has poisoned himself, have been shot at Warsaw, in the public place of execution, without the walls. They all died with a display of firmness and courage, hoping that their deaths might be useful to their unhappy country. Olkowski, in particular, showed great self command.—While on his way to execution, he gathered up a handful of the soil, and exclaimed—"For this we have fought, and for this we are willing to die!"—The tombs of these young heroes have become objects of veneration to the people, who strew flowers and garlands upon them. Many women have compromised themselves. A young lady, named Helen Nowakowska, has received 200 stripes, for having sent provisions to some unfortunate insurgents who were dying of hunger, in the woods.—The horrible punishment was inflicted in one of the barracks of Lubin, to the sound of military music; and, to render it more severe, they afterwards shaved her head, and confined her in a convent, and no one can tell when she will be released. The wife of Orlowska has been condemned to receive 500 stripes, for having sheltered one of her relations. She entreated that her punishment might be inflicted publicly, at Warsaw, in order that it might inflame the courage of the patriots. This, however, being denied her, on the day her sentence was to have been executed she was found dead, in her prison, having forced pins into her bosom."—The Polonaise.

AUBUSSON CARPETS.

The history of carpeting runs parallel with the history of civilization. In the earliest ages their place was supplied by having the floors strewed with rushes; afterwards these rushes were platted into mats. Previously the human race contented themselves with having their rude apartments covered with sand, or strewed with dead leaves. In these times mankind went about the earth with naked feet, but the introduction of carpets was the forerunner of other comforts, and may be considered as the eldest brothers of sandals and shoes, though these succeeded them at a distance of upwards of twenty centuries. In this, however, an exception must be made in favor of France, for she was in possession of shoes before carpets. It is upon record that in the age of Charles Martel, when her children fled before the Saracens, they carried their shoes in their hands. Her barbarian conquerors in some degree requited the miseries of their invasion by teaching her the art of making those admirable imitations of Turkey carpets made in Persia.

It must, however, be acknowledged that France, though she wore shoes, was, at this period, far from having obtained the acme of civilization, and it remained for Henry IV to improve the carpets introduced by the soldiers of Abderramen. But, as every thing must have its regular progress towards perfection, it was left to Louis XIII to give the manufacture of carpets a new feature, by taking them under his particular protection, and establishing the Gobelins. When the productions of this Royal manufactory were seen, it was believed that art had produced its master piece, and that civilization, in respect to carpeting, had reached its zenith. This was an erroneous conclusion. Chemistry was yet in its infancy, and even towards the close of the last century, the art of coloring was confined to applying the various dyes and tints to the yarn after it was spun; but becoming every day more and more skilful from repeated experiments, it reached at length the present perfection, with which wool in its natural state is colored and shaded with that exquisite beauty and delicacy which is requisite to give to carpets the unrivalled brilliancy they now possess. To confine ourselves to the manufacture of Aubusson—let us examine the difference between not only those of Pierre Dumont, in 1604, but between those manufactured in 1763, under the direction of M. de la Porte, Intendant at Aubusson, and those tissues of wool, as fine as silk, those pictures as if painted by the pencil of a master, which were only yesterday under the hands of M. Charles de Salandrouze. If in the former any thing is found worthy of attention, it must be confined to its solidity, while in the latter innumerable charms combine to excite admiration—color, depth, and softness, a skilful combination of delicacy and force, an exquisite distribution of light and shade. On entering the warehouse of M. de Salandrouze, on the Boulevarde Poissoniere, an amateur might at once imagine himself in the exhibition room of an eminent painter, for there he will find carpets worthy of being suspended in the chambers of palaces, rivaling the productions of Raphael or Rubens, and many of them like those estimated at 50,000 francs—at the same time there are others marked as low as 100 francs. Carried on by the crowd which daily presses forward with eagerness to view this rich display, one tramples under foot specimens of art which kings might covet—the fruits of the magic power of M. Salandrouze, whereby he has imparted animation to the different species of wool, by imbuing them with the specific colors peculiarly adapted to their nature and quality. The wool of Auveragne being alone susceptible of amaranthine dye—the fleeces of Provence most readily imbibing the amber hue—and the shining coats from the flocks of the humid atmosphere of England best receiving the various tints of blue and the purest white. By thus having ascertained the nature of the different wools, and the colors best suited to each species, M. Salandrouze has brought the civilization of carpets up to the level of the arts and sciences of the nineteenth century, and has demonstrated that the Tyrians were but mere novices, notwithstanding the wide extended fame of their purple dyes.

FROM BENGAL.

We are in possession of a file of the Bengal Chronicle to the 27th of August, but find very little of interest. The papers are principally occupied with the detail of provincial occurrences, the proceedings of Courts, local topics, and intelligence from Europe. There is one subject, however, of general interest, and which seems to occupy a prominent portion of Oriental consideration. We refer to the projected navigation of the Red Sea by steam. A Mr. Thomas Waghorn has taken a deep interest in promoting this plan, and a Steam Fund has been projected, to which large subscriptions have been made, for carrying it into effect.

There can be, we think, but little doubt that in less than half a century, the dangerous and circuitous rout now taken to reach India from Europe by the way of the Cape of Good Hope will be abandoned, and that, by the aid, either of rails or steam, the more short and accessible course of the Red Sea or its border, will be adopted in its place.

The Asiatic Scourge—the Cholera—had broken out with severity in a part of the British army stationed at Bombay; and famine was making frightful ravages at Vellore.—N. Y. Com. Adv.

Nassau, N. P., Dec. 28.—His Majesty's sch'r. Nimble, Lieut. Bolton, commanding, arrived from Havana, on Wednesday last. Since the former visit of the Nimble at this port, Lieut. Bolton had the good fortune to capture two Spanish slave traders on the south side of Cuba, which were both delivered over to the Mixed Commission Court at Havana. One of these Pirates had the daring to give battle to the Nimble, and fought her with a degree of spirit, for upwards of an hour, but surrendered in consequence of the captain of her having been severely wounded, of which he died the day after. The largest of these slavers was a two topsail schooner, with upwards of four hundred slaves—the other was a schooner with near three hundred.

General Sarsfield, who commands the main army against the insurgents, in the north of Spain, is of Irish descent from one of the numerous Catholic families who emigrated to Spain during the proscriptions in Ireland, in the beginning of the last century. Having been a distinguished officer at the time of the invasion of Napoleon, he was afterwards, when the Duke of Angouleme entered Spain, entrusted by the Cortes with a special defence of Madrid, but treacherously rode up and surrendered his sword to the Bourbon Prince, at the very moment when his troops were in expectation of commencing the conflict. This acquired for him the confidence of Ferdinand; accounts also for the suspicions that were recently entertained of his fidelity by the Queen's party.

Spanish Justice.—One Spaniard has been hung up at Madrid, for crying "Long live Don Carlos;"—another unfortunate dog was suspended in a similar manner, at Bilboa, for shouting "Long live Donna Isabella;" and a third has been stretched by the neck till he was dead, for crying nothing at all, at all.

M. Rothschild, with a spirit of toleration as well as of generosity, which is worthy of imitation, having learned that the Rector of Boulogne, near Paris, had been robbed of all his plate, which he was unable to replace, sent him a chest, fully making up the loss.—French paper.

According to the German Pedagogic Magazine, there died lately in Suabia a schoolmaster who for 51 years had superintended an institution with old fashioned severity. From an average inferred by means of recorded observations, one of the ushers has calculated, that in the course of his exertions he had given 911,500 canings 124,000 floggings, 209,000 custodes, 136,000 tips with the ruler, 10,200 boxes on the ear, and 22,700 tasks to get by heart.

It was further calculated that he had made 700 boys stand on peas, 600 kneel on a sharp edge of wood, 5,000 wear the fool's cap, and 1,708 hold the rod.

The King of Bavaria has presented to the Hereditary Prince of Hesse Darmstadt, about to become his son in law, a Bavarian regiment which has thus become his property.

The sale of the equipage, diamonds and jewelry belonging to the late Prince of Conde, began at Paris on Monday; it is supposed that it will produce several millions.—Messenger.

The few cedars remaining on Mount Lebanon, (about 200,) 20 of which are very large, are preserved with a religious strictness. On the day of the transfiguration, the patriarch repairs in procession to the Mount, and celebrates the 'Feast of Cedars."

Internal Improvement Convention.—The Convention called for the purpose of adopting measures for opening a communication between the Chesapeake Bay and Ohio Canal, met in the Presbyterian Church, in this place, on Wednesday last, and adjourned yesterday. About 50 or 60 delegates, from the adjoining counties, in Ohio and Pennsylvania, were in attendance.

Gen. Walter B. Beebe, of Harrison county, was chosen President, and Eli Nichols, of Belmont, and Redick M'Kee, of Wheeling, Secretaries.

A committee was appointed to prepare a memorial to Congress asking an appropriation for, or in aid of, the construction of a bridge across the Ohio river, at Wheeling.

A committee was also appointed to ascertain the cost of a Rail Road from the town of Wheeling to Cumberland, Maryland, and to adopt measures for the formation of a Company to construct such Rail Road.

As to the connection between the Ohio river and Ohio Canal, a committee appointed on the subject, reported in favor of a Rail Road from Bridgeport, on the Ohio river, to Freeport, and a slack-water navigation from thence to the Canal. Their views were concurred in by the Convention.—Wheeling Gazette, Jan. 25.

Canal Tolls.—The Canal Board have had a special meeting, for the purpose of regulating the canal tolls, and the rates are published at this early day, for the information of those who are interested in the subject.

The rates of toll upon merchandise have been reduced 25 per cent.; upon flour, salted beef, and pork, butter and cheese, beer and cider, the reduction is 10 per cent.; on timber, squared and round, carried in boats, the toll is reduced 50 per cent.; sawed lumber, carried in boats, is reduced from 10 to 8 mills, per 1,000 feet, per mile. Those who are familiar with the old rates will perceive that there has been a very general reduction in the rates of toll. On most articles, the produce of the country, as well as on merchandise, the tolls, by the present reduction, are brought within a fraction of the constitutional minimum.

The toll upon foreign salt has been reduced from 5 to 3 cents, per 1,000 pounds, per mile. Previous to 1831, the toll upon foreign salt was one cent and four mills; in consequence of the reduction by Congress, of the United States' duty, the Canal Board, in 1831, raised the toll upon foreign salt from one cent and four mills to ten cents, per 1,000 pounds, per mile. The constitution having been altered so as to enable the legislature to reduce the state duty upon each bushel of salt from 12½ to 6 cents,, the Canal Board have modified the rates of toll upon foreign salt.—Albany Argus.

Melioration of Climate.—The argument which some urge in favor of the gradual improvement of our climate, is derived mainly from the history of Europe. At Rome, for example, which is but half a degree South of this city, whole years sometimes pass without the mercury's sinking to the freezing point; and yet Juvenal, and perhaps other old writers, speak of the Tiber being frozen over in their day. In Spain, which has now nearly the same climate with Italy, Livy says the snow lay four feet deep, near where is now Barcelona. Again, the Psalms speak of "snow like wool," hoar frost and ice, and St. John tells us "the servants had made a fire of coal, for it was cold," &c. This was early in April—indicating a very different state of things from the present, for frost is supposed not to be known in Palestine in modern times. Jerusalem is 10 degrees farther South than Rome.—Bost. Mer. Jour.

Patent Scales.—At 27 South Market street, and also in the Market, may be seen the lately invented and patented Platform Scales of Messrs. Fairbanks, of St. Johnsbury, Vt., which, for the little space it occupies, its simplicity of construction, and the ease and accuracy of its measurement, is certainly much before any similar machinery in use. A person who has had one in the market for some time, remarked to us that he would not sell it now for three times its cost, as it had saved him more than that sum in time, room, and correctness. We learn that it is just patented in England, and that the Union Canal Company, in New York, and the Corporation of Philadelphia, have ordered Coal Scales made by Messrs. F., who have also, within a year or two, constructed about 500 Hay Scales on the same principle. A manufactory has been recently established in Pittsburgh. The "Platform" used in stores, sets into the floor like a trap door, and the different sizes weigh from half a pound up to 2,500.—Boston Merc. Journal.

The Globe, of yesterday, (23d) contains very remarkable acknowledgments, ostensibly editorial, concerning the distress which has begun to be felt in the Western and South Western states. It confesses that the consequences of the warfare on the Bank are now felt "by every citizen who has any thing to sell throughout the entire valley of the Mississippi."—

"The fine prices which the opening of the season promised, in the fall, have suddenly sunk. In Illinois, for example, the wheat is at twenty five cents a bushel; and so of other produce throughout the west."

"It must be recollected that western and south western produce begins to arrive in New Orleans, in quantity, in the month of December, and continues to increase and accumulate during January, February, and March, after which it declines till June. The four first named months, then, are precisely the times that money is wanted in New Orleans."

"The money market at New Orleans is agonized and depressed; all produce going there for sale feels the effect of the depression, and sinks in price—Cotton was down to 12 or 14 cents; every thing else in proportion.

"No bills to be bought, or sold, between New Orleans and the cities of the States with which she trades; no facilities for getting money between the west and its emporium."

We have thus quoted the main admissions of the Globe. How wicked and daring the Kitchen Cabinet to have brought all this calamity upon the entire valley of the Mississippi. Then follows an imploration to the Bank to abandon all its measures of self protection and preparation for that death which the said Cabinet resolved it shall suffer—

"There is time yet to do much for the Western market; time yet to restore the price of cotton, and all western produce. By the middle of January the Bank could have her orders in New Orleans."

It is therefore evident that Congress ought without delay to enable the Bank to "do much," by doing her justice and raising the iniquitous siege which has forced her into severe precautions.—Nat. Gaz. Jan. 24.

We learn that a serious disturbance took place among a number of blacks, in West Kensington, on Saturday night last. The police officers of the district were called to the spot, with a view of preserving the peace. In the scuffle one of the blacks—who had previously been admonished to desist from his riotous behavior—was shot thro' the heart.—Phila. Gaz.

Canal Affray.—Some little stir was produced in our town, on Monday last, by the arrival of an express from the line of the canal, bearing intelligence of a war among the workmen. Our two volunteer companies immediately marched for Williams Port. On arriving there, it was discovered that the scene of action was several miles below the town; and that the belligerents had ceased hostilities. We understand that no lives were lost; but that several persons were dangerously wounded in the affray, which was confined entirely to those engaged on the canal. The cause of the difficulty is said to have been, either the suspension of work, or of payment on one or more sections of the canal. On Tuesday our volunteer corps returned to town, having in charge thirty four of the rioters, who have been committed to jail.—Hagerstown Torch Light; Jan. 23, 1834.

Indictments have been presented at the present term of the United States Circuit Court, against Benaiah Jones, Post Master at Jonesville, M. T., and also against Martin V. Withington, Post Master at La Salle, Monroe county, M. T., charging the said Jones and Withington, severally, with embezzlement and larceny from the United States Mail.—Jones was arraigned on Monday last, and plead guilty. Withington being arraigned at the same time pled not guilty. There are five indictments against him.—Detroit Courier.

Among the singular arguments employed against the Bank, is that of the evil which results from the attempt to destroy it. This fallacy is presented in a disingenuous way—"See what mischief it can do—ought it to exist at all?" What is indispensable for a great national good must be rejected because it is indispensable! It would be as just and logical to apply this reasoning to any engine of great beneficial action. Suppose that President Jackson and the Cabal possessed and exerted the power of forcing the Sun gradually to withdraw its heat and light. The mischief would be abundantly great for the world. Then how wise the remark—"See how much evil the Sun can produce. Should it not be extinguished forever?"—National Gazette.

Among the modes of attraction enjoined to Persian females is this: "Let their crimson tinted toes be exposed, in order that the young men may see and admire them with wounded hearts."

From a Spanish Poem.

O would! so few the years we live,
Would that the life which thou dost give
Were life indeed!
But oh, thy sorrows fall so fast,
Our happiest hour is when at last
The soul is freed.

Our days are cover'd o'er with grief,
Our sorrows neither few nor brief
Veil all in gloom;
Left desolate of real good,
Within this cheerless solitude
No pleasures bloom.

Thy pilgrimage begins in tears,
And ends in bitter doubts and fears,
Or dark despair;
Midway so many toils appear,
That he who lingers longest here
Knows most of care.
Thy goods are bought with many a groan,
By the hot sweat of toil alone,
And weary hearts;
Fleet footed is the approach of wo,
But with a lingering step, and slow,
Its form departs.

* * * * * *

"Oh, death, no more, no more delay;
My spirit longs to flee away,
And be at rest;
The will of heaven my will shall be—
I bow to the divine decree;
To God's behest.

My soul is ready to depart,
No thought rebels; the obedient heart
Breathes out no sigh;
The wish on earth to linger still
Were vain when 'tis God's sovereign will
That we shall die.

Oh Thou, that for our sins did take
A human form, and humbly make
Thy home on earth;
Thou, that to thy divinity
A human nature didst ally
By mortal birth—

And in that form didst suffer here,
Torment, and agony, and fear,
So patiently;
By thy redeeming grace alone,
And not for merits of my own,
Oh, pardon me!"

As thus the dying warrior pray'd,
Without one gathering mist or shade
Upon his mind,
Encircled by his family,
Watch'd by affection's gentle eye,
So soft and kind—

His soul, to him who gave it, rose—
God led it to its long repose—
Its glorious rest!
And though the warrior's sun has set,
Its light shall linger round us yet,
Bright, radiant, blest.

☞ At a meeting of the Vigilant Fire Company, held at the room above the Eagle engine house, on Monday evening, the 27th inst., on motion of J. R. M'Clintock, it was unanimously

Resolved, That the thanks of this Company be presented to the Union and First Pittsburgh Hose Companies, for their promptness in supplying the Vigilant Engine with water, at the late fires.

On motion, it was further

Resolved, That the foregoing resolution be published.

LOUISVILLE HOTEL.

THIS new and splendid establishment, situated on Main street, has been leased of the Louisville Hotel Company by the subscribers, for a term of years, and they feel no hesitation in saying that the entire arrangement of this Hotel, for extent of accommodation, elegance, and comfort, are not surpassed by any Hotel in the United States. Its location is pleasant and airy, and but a few moments' walk from the steam boats. The house contains nearly 200 apartments, most of which have fire places; and has a private entrance, leading to thirty suits of rooms, expressly arranged for the accommodation of families—has also seventy single lodging rooms. The establishment is furnished in the best modern style, and the Wines and Liquors have been selected with great care from the most celebrated vaults in New York and Boston. The proprietors, grateful for the liberal patronage bestowed on the different establishments they have been connected with in the eastern cities, hope, by their experience and personal attention, to gain for this Hotel a reputation equal to any in America. The Hotel was opened for the reception of transient and permanent boarders on the 1st of December.

FAIRBANK'S PLATFORM SCALES.

THESE scales are constructed upon an improved principle; are fitted up with great care by the manufacturers, and warranted to weigh with accuracy from half a pound to 12,000. Being placed in, and forming part of, the floor, the process of weighing is performed with ease and facility, while the space they occupy may be improved as a passage way or for other purposes.

The construction of these scales is such that they are little liable to derangement of wear, and their perfect operation will be guaranteed for any reasonable length of time.

The usual objection, that a new method of weighing cannot be safely entrusted to unskilful hands, is obviated by the use of the improved BALANCE, concerning which are the following remarks in the Journal of the Frankiin Institute, of the state of Pennsylvania, for the promotion of the Mechanic Arts, for June, 1833. (Edited by Thos. P. Jones, M. D., late Superintendent of the Patent Office, at Washington, Professor of Mechanics in the Franklin Institute, &c.

"The Messrs. Fairbanks, some time since, obtained a patent for a Platform Weighing Machine, and this mode of adjuating and graduating the Beam of the Balance, and the weights, was devised by them with a view to its employment with the before mentioned machine. We have had an opportunity of examining one of their balances, and have been much pleased with it: this examination, however, was not necessary to the conviction that it possesses a just claim to the character of a real improvement, the whole arrangement being so simple as to enable any person to perceive that it is well adapted to the purpose contemplated, that of facilitating the business of weighing, and more especially of heavy articles."

The subscriber, as Agent, will receive orders for the above Scales, which will be made in this city to order. They can be seen at his Warehouse, No. 84, Front street.

DOCTOR ROBERT'S

☞ WELCH MEDICAMENTUM ☜

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn, It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,

From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.

UTICA, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentam. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

ANTI DYSPEPTIC ELIXER.

ONE of the most agreeable and efficacious Medicines ever discovered for the permanent cure of those chronic states of derangement of the stomach, constituting that miserable disease called Dyspepsia.

The basis of this Elixer s vegetables, and perfectly innocent in its operation; it destroys that sour state of the stomach, the instant it is taken, and stops the morbid secretion, by giving strength to the muscular fibre of that important organ, by which means the peristaltic motion of the intestines is increased, and the costiveness obviated; a new action is given to the system, which puts an end to a train of distressing nervous sensations.

Another form of the disease in which the Elixer is admirably calculated to relieve, is the decline of fever, where the stomach will not bear the ordinary strengthening medicines indicated in such cases, it has the surprising effect of giving vigor, and restoring the natural secretions of the body, without increasing the febrile state. Not the least danger is to be apprehended from exposure to cold, while under the use of this medicine, nor will it interrupt necessary employment of the patient a single hour.

☞ A number of cases of cures performed by the Anti-Dyspeptic Elixer in the vicinity of Pittsburgh can be given.

COMPOUND SYRUP OF LIVERWORT,

A SAFE and Valuable Medicine for Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Consumption, and Liver Complaints.

Most of the medicines made use of for the above diseases are of a stimulating nature, composed generally of Resins and Balsams, in alcoholic solutions, which, although sometimes giving temporary relief, in almost every instance where they are freely used, aggravate the disease, and reduce the strength of the patient.

This article possesses superior advantages over these preparations, its action being of a tonic, invigorating and strengthening nature, thus overcoming the disease by promoting expectoration, and gradually increasing the strength of the patient, and thus, without being attended with any unpleasant effects: it also agrees with the stomach, in a cases, and is a pleasant medicine to take.
